Dear Michael,

The Australian Labor Party and the Israeli Labour Party share common ideals and have through their histories enjoyed warm relations.

Significantly, both parties have strong ties to the union movement, are committed to social justice, and have been responsible for the enactment of progressive legislation which has helped to shape the egalitarian nature of their societies.

We are pleased to be working to establish a direct dialogue with the Israeli Labor Party through our international arm, Labor International, and continue to support ongoing exchange of views through the growing network of Labor members and supporters, the Australia Israel Labor Dialogue.

Warmest regards,

George Wright
National Secretary
